A technical drawing of a mechanical device, likely a pump or engine component. It features a long, curved arm (91) connected to a central mechanism. A long rod (92) is attached to the end of the arm. A smaller rod (93) is connected to the central mechanism. A curved, ribbed component (95) is also shown. The drawing is a line drawing with cross-hatching for shading.
